PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Senior Researcher (January 2008–Present), Research Associate (April 2003–December 2007), Immigration Policy Center (IPC), American Immigration Council (formerly American Immigration Law Foundation), Washington, DC.

Write, research, and edit articles, reports, and opinion pieces on a wide range of topics pertaining to U.S. immigration policy, including the demographics, economics, and politics of immigration to the United States; the impact of U.S. border-enforcement policies on national security; and the possible contours of comprehensive immigration reform. Have published articles in Society, the Georgetown Journal of Law and Public Policy, the Stanford Law and Policy Review, and Immigration Law Today; and opinion pieces in the Wall Street Journal, Miami Herald, Philadelphia Inquirer, Sacramento Bee, Politico, and The Hill. Some of my IPC reports have been reprinted on ILW.com and HispanicVista.com. Others have been reprinted by the Social Science Research Council (New York) and the Americas Program of the Center for International Policy (Washington, DC).

Immigration Policy Analyst, Office of Migration and Refugee Policy, Migration and Refugee Services (MRS), U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB), Washington, DC, April 2001–April 2003.

Researched and wrote policy bulletins, fact sheets, and articles on immigration and refugee issues such as Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) detention practices, visa-application backlogs at the INS, and the impact on non-U.S. citizens of anti-terrorism measures implemented after 9/11. Published in Bender’s Immigration Bulletin and Migration World Magazine.

Legislative Assistant, Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees (UNITE) {now merged with Hotel Employees and Restaurant Employees International Union to form UNITE HERE}, Washington, DC, April–July 2000.

Provided research and lobbying support on UNITE campaigns related to the granting of Permanent Normal Trade Relations with China, proposals to increase the minimum wage, and the expansion of Medicare prescription-drug benefits.

Program Director, National Citizenship Network (NCN), Immigration & Refugee Services of America {now U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants}, Washington, DC, January 1998–March 2000.

Oversaw activities of the NCN: a clearinghouse for the exchange of immigration-policy information among 190 advocacy, social-service, and legal organizations in 25 states. Issues of concern included INS detention practices, visa-application backlogs, and restructuring proposals; U.S. policies toward Central American refugees; and denial of welfare benefits to legal immigrants. Served as NCN liaison with INS headquarters and wrote for Refugee Reports.

Lecturer in Anthropology, American University, Washington, DC, Fall 1996.

Taught an introductory anthropology course emphasizing the uses of ethnography and political economy in analyzing then-contemporary social issues such as the international debt crisis, structural adjustment programs of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), U.S. welfare reform, and U.S. campaign-finance reform.

Fulbright U.S. Student Fellow/Field Researcher, Caracas, Venezuela, November 1993–December 1994.

Conducted 14 months of research on the grassroots impact of the international debt crisis and IMF structural adjustment programs on poverty, public services, crime, political protest, electoral politics, and human rights during the 1980s and 1990s.
